THE VOICE

July 19, 2009

The church invites you to make your prayer scriptural.

A good way to begin would be to use each week's Sunday Psalm Response at regular daily intervals.

The hand of the Lord feeds us; he answers all our needs.

Saturday, July 25, feast of St. James. Patron saint of St. James Basilica.

Prayer to St. James

"O Glorious Saint James, because of your fervor and generosity Jesus chose you to witness his glory on the Mount and his agony in the Garden. Obtain for us strength and consolation in the unending struggles of this life. Help us to follow Christ constantly and generously, to be victors over all our difficulties, and to receive the crown of glory in heaven. Amen."

People's Prayer for Priests

Dear Lord,
we pray that the Blessed Mother
wrap her mantle around your priests and through her intercession strengthen them for their ministry.
We pray that Mary will guide your priests
to follow her own words,
"Do whatever He tells you" (Jn 2:5).
May your priests have the heart of St. Joseph,

Mary's most chaste spouse.
May the Blessed Mother's own pierced heart inspire them to embrace
all who suffer at the foot of the cross.
May your priests be holy,
filled with the fire of your love
seeking nothing but your greater glory
and the salvation of souls.
Amen.
Saint John Vianney, pray for us

Bitsofbitz

I was able to get to Napoleon this past week. My brother is having an auction sale of his farm equipment. So I was busy helping him move around machinery, cleaning up the yard, washing the combine and doing a lot of running around and lifting. Boy was I sore after 10 hours of that. A good nights sleep and exercise in the morning did a good job of lessening the soreness. Of course while I was there I had to be at the coffee shop at 7am. One of the farmers was talking about all the chemical spraying of the various crops. As an after-remark, he said: "It won't be too long before we will all be glowing!"

Maybe this is where I need to say a few words about conservation of things and recycling.

There is such a thing as "Freecycle Network."

Here is what is happening right here in Jamestown - 415 active members

Welcome to the Jamestown Freecycle group!

To join our group, please Visit the Jamestown Yahoo!Group page .

The Freecycle Network™ is made up of 4,767 groups with 6,895,692 members across the globe. It's a grassroots and entirely nonprofit movement of people who are giving (and getting) stuff for free in their own towns and thus keeping good stuff out of landfills.

Membership is free, and everything posted must be FREE, legal and appropriate for all ages. To view the items being given away or sought in Jamestown, you must be a member of the local group. To view the local group posts, visit the local Yahoo Group where they are located by clicking on the link below.

If you are already a member, you may use the "Post" tab on the top right of this page to make your post to the local group. Otherwise, go to the Yahoo Group linked to below and click on "Join" first in order to view the posts. Thanks so much and have fun!

Question of the WeekSixteenth Sunday in Ordinary Time - July 19, 2009

Jeremiah 23 : 1-6 , Ephesians 2: 13-18, Mark 6: 30-34.

Sometimes we need to pause for rest with Jesus.

Question for Children: How do you keep Sunday as a day of rest?

Question for Youth: Jesus was moved with pity for the people who were gathered. Who are the people you are moved with pity for? What can you do to help them?

Question for Adults: Why is rest important, and how do you make sure you get enough of it in your own life?

Saint of the Week - Ignatius Loyola, Priest — 1491 – 1556

Ignatius was the youngest of thirteen children of a noble family in the Basque region of Spain. He entered the military service and had a promising career ahead of him until he was wounded during the siege of Pamplona in 1521.

During his long recovery, Ignatius spent the time reading religious books, as there was nothing else available to him. These readings included a life of Christ and the lives of saints, both of which had a profound effect on him. After his recovery, he made a pilgrimage to Monserrat where he hung up his sword at Our Lord's altar. He then spent a year in retreat at Manresa where he experienced visions and began writing his Spiritual Exercises.

From 1524 to 1535, Ignatius studied in Paris and received a Master of Arts degree in 1534. In that same year, along with a group of fellow students who included St. Francis Xavier, he founded the Society of Jesus (the Jesuits). The group vowed to live in poverty and chastity and to go to the Holy Land. Because of the hostility of the Turks, however, they were unable to achieve this last goal, so they went instead to Rome and placed themselves in the apostolic service of the Pope. The Society was formally approved in 1540 by Pope Paul III. The group took their final vows in 1541 and Ignatius Loyola was named the superior general of the order. Unlike most orders, Jesuits take four vows. In addition to poverty, chastity, and obedience, they also take a vow to go wherever the Pope should send them for the salvation of souls. In the case of the early Jesuits, this meant India and Japan where Jesuit missionaries still exist. (St. Francis Xavier was the earliest Jesuit missionary to both countries.)

The Jesuits established many houses, schools, colleges, and seminaries around Europe in the early years of the order. They soon became known for their intellectual prowess and for their work in the field of education. Ignatius Loyola was active against the heresies which spread during the Reformation. (It was in 1517 that Martin Luther nailed his theses to the church door at Wittenberg.) By the time of his death in 1556, Ignatius had set in motion three of his goals for the Jesuits: reform of the Church, especially through education and frequent acceptance of the sacraments; widespread activity in the missionary field; and participation in the fight against heresy. Following his advice to treat all people with respect, members of the order have also been at the forefront of the modern ecumenical movement.

St. Ignatius Loyola was canonized a saint in 1622 and proclaimed patron of retreats and spiritual exercises by Pope Pius XI. A memorial honors this saint on July 31.

Ignatius' Message Today: The Jesuits today run many high schools and universities which are known for high standards of education. While teaching the broadest range of subject matter, these institutions focus much time and energy in teaching about the Church. For all of us, though, most parishes offer adult education courses which allow members to become more knowledgeable about the Church.
