"God judged it better to bring good out of evil than to suffer no evil to exist."

Saint Augustine

FUNDAMENTALS OF OUR FAITH

Today's Solemnity of "Corpus Christi" recalls that evocative celebration and at the same time makes us relive the intense atmosphere of the Last Supper. "Take; this is my body... This is my blood" (Mk 14: 22-24). Let us listen again to Jesus' words while he offers his disciples the bread that has become his Body and the wine that has become his Blood. In this way he inaugurates the new paschal rite: the Eucharist is the sacrament of the new and eternal Covenant. With those acts and words, Christ brings to fulfilment the long ordinances of the ancient rites, mentioned ... in the First Reading (cf. Ex 24: 3-8). The Church returns constantly to the Upper Room as to the place of her birth. She returns to it because the Eucharistic gift establishes a mysterious "oneness in time" between the Passover of the Lord and the perennial making present of the paschal mystery in the world and in every generation (cf. Ecclesia de Eucharistia, n. 5).

This evening too, with deep gratitude to God, let us reflect in silence before the mystery of faith - mysterium fidei. Let us contemplate it with that profound feeling which, in the Encyclical (Ecclesia de Eucharistia), I called "Eucharistic amazement": immense and grateful wonder at the Sacrament in which Christ wanted "to concentrate" forever his entire mystery of love. Let us contemplate the Eucharistic face of Christ, as did the Apostles and later, the saints of all the centuries. Let us contemplate him above all by learning at the school of Mary, "woman 'of the Eucharist' in her whole life", the One who was "the first 'tabernacle' in history". This is the meaning of the beautiful tradition of Corpus Christi which is renewed this evening. With it, the Church that is in Rome also shows her constitutive link with the Eucharist, and professes joyfully that she "draws her life from the Eucharist".

Cursillos in Christianity is a worldwide movement that was founded in 1944 in Mallorca, Spain. A Cursillo is a weekend experience that is recognized by the Roman Catholic Church as an instrument of Christian renewal. Through Christian friendship with our brothers and sisters, Cursillo seeks to bring the Good News that God, in Christ, loves us. It is a personal invitation to experience the Holy Spirit at work within a Christian community. The Cursillo method provides a way to know, love and serve God in the daily routine of our lives. Cursillo Weekends will be held this summer at St. John Neumann Center in Tallahassee:

Men's Cursillo July 23 - July 26
Women's Cursillo July 30 - August 2
