Closing Thought as another year comes to a close:

What does the future hold? The best thing about the future is that it comes upon us by degrees, a day at a time. We can manage that much!

Whatever it holds, your future is yours. May you make every day, your own and not waste a one: look forward, not backward. Grant yourself a life of peace, free from strife, animosity, resentment and retaliation. Help yourself to be a friend to all people even to those who dislike you, manifesting more tolerance. May you be quick to see your own faults, and even quicker to correct them.

Forget past mistakes and press on to greater achievements. Put first things first. Make your work, a joy. Allow nothing to disturb your peace of mind. Never lose your self-control. Spend time improving yourself so that you have no time left to criticize others. Think the best, work for it and expect it. Be a friend to all. Stand up for what is right. Be true. Be kind. Take every disappointment as a stimulant. Live on the sunny side of every cloud. Smile, Look Ahead, Keep Moving!

And ask God each day what He has for you to do that day!!

May the gift of HIS LOVE bless you
in the coming year!
